Foreword

The task of compiling the material for this edition of the Razorback has not been without its difficulties and misgivings. We have attempted to make the Razorback more artistic, radically different and truly distinctive. We have desired to present in a different way the student activities of the year. We have wished to make every student justly proud of his copy of the "Razorback Distinctive." We have done our best. The past is not our goal. Let us strive and work for the betterment of our University and State, boasting always, knocking never. A better University means a better Annual, a better state and a satisfied student body. Work, therefore, that your labors may add to the wealth of the University

Man, as a Scholar and as an Educator, he toils and builds for the students, for the University and for the State and Nation. Steadfast in his support of the right, he will ever be dear to the hearts of all University students.
Our interests are his.

*Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty
Watches thy Soul from the mountains of God.
Over the fates of thy children departed
Far from the land where thy footsteps have trod.
Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true,
From those who adore unto one who adores us
Mother of Mothers we sing unto you.*

*We, with our faces turned high to the eastward,
Proud of our place in the vanguard of Truth,
Will sing unto thee a new song of thanksgiving,
Honor to God and the Springtime of Youth.
Shout for the victor or tear for the vanquished,
Sunshine or tempest thy heart is e'er true;
Pride of the hills and the White-Laden Lowlands
Mother of Mothers we kneel unto you.*

*Ever the legions of Sin will assail us,
Ever the battle in cities afar;
Still in the depths will thy spirit eternal
Beckon us on like a piloting star.
Down the dim years do thy dead children call thee;
Wafted to sleep while the Springtime was new:
We of the present, thy Hope of the Future,
Mother of Mothers we pray unto you.*

PRESIDENT JOHN CLINTON FUTRALL, M. A.

For over ten years President Futrall has directly devoted himself to the services of the University and of Arkansas. We gratefully recognize that we are reaping the fruits of his wise planning and skillful direction when foundations were being laid and policies formed. He is constantly working for the harmonious development of the various departments of the University. We respect the man, honor and esteem him.

The Faculty

The faculty of the University of Arkansas is composed of more than one hundred and twenty-five instructors, capable and willing. The faculty continues to grow and from time to time its personnel is being strengthened. The addition of Bradford

Knapp to the College of Agriculture and the office of dean was a most fortunate event, both for the University and the State.

The University is divided into four colleges: the Engineering College, the Agricultural College, the College of Education, and the College of Arts and Sciences. W. N. Gladson is dean of the College of Engineering, Bradford Knapp is dean of the College of Agriculture, James Ralph Jewell is dean of the College of Education and G. W. Droke is dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The department heads are: Virgil L. Jones, English; C. L. Stewart, Economics; W. J. Baerg, Entomology; W. L. Bleeker, Bacteriology and Pathology; J. R. Cooper, Horticulture; H. E. Dvorachek, Animal Husbandry; Harrison Hale, Chemistry; R. M. Gow, Veterinary Science; Stella Palmer, Home Economics; Frank M. Pickel, Biology; John W. Read, Agricultural Chemistry; Giles E. Ripley, Physics; Henry H. Strauss, Ancient Languages; D. Y. Thomas, History and Political Science; B. N. Wilson, Experimental Engineering; J. A. Elliot, Plant Pathology; H. D. Tovey, Director of Department of Fine Arts; Captain K. W. Halpine, Military Science and Tactics; Mary Ann Davis, Dean of Women.

The Board of Trustees, of which Chas. H. Brough is chairman, is composed of seven men, one from each district. They are: Browning, Ponder, Reagan, Head, Pace, Banks and Mahoney.

"MA"

ONE name will the sons and daughters of Arkansas always remember—the name of Nina V. "Ma" Harding. That name will always be a cherished and perpetual memory to those who know her. We more than dedicate this book to her; we ascribe to her the noblest esteem, the greatest and richest love that thousands of sincere souls are able to bestow. May God protect our "Ma!" May we never forget her worth!

A ministering angel was our "ma"
To kids and souls alike;
Dire homesickness and swollen jaw,
She put them all to flight.

'Twas with the fondest of regrets
We told our "ma" goodbye;
Her memory lingers with us yet,
Her spirit is always nigh.

—R. A. Cooper.

J. W. COLEMAN, Center. "Collie" is a hard fighter, a sure tackler and a very aggressive and conservative worker. His work this year made all the opposing coaches wish that he was not on the team.

TATE MCGILL, Right Guard. "Mac" is to be captain of the team next year and will lead the cardinal and white gridiron forces. If it is left up to "Mac" Arkansas will have a winning team next season.

CHARLIE JAMERSON, Left End. With a never-give-up spirit "Birdie" fights to the last. He was a heavy and aggressive player.

HENDERSON YOUNG, Fullback. Young was one of the hardest hitting men on the team. Built to make an ideal fullback he will no doubt show up well next year.

HAL ALCORN, Fullback. A large amount of energy condensed into a small package. Fast, slippery, a good dodger and a hard tackler.

GENE DAVIDSON, Quarterback. "Sodie" presents the altruistic side of athletics. Last season he put aside his own interests for the interest of his team. "Sodie" was a man who could be depended upon and during his work at the University he rounded out a wonderful football record. "Sodie" was chosen by Bryan on the All-Southwestern Conference.

GEORGE BASORE, Left Guard. With his inherent speed and natural ability "Bazoo" has promise of making a brilliant player. He made the only touch-down in the game with Oklahoma U.

MONROE PERDUE, Right Half. "Money" was a bullet in disguise. He was good at thinking out the opponents, plays, a deadly tackler and a good open field runner.

DICK HOLDERBY, Left Half. "Dick" was somewhat a victim of circumstances. When he did get a chance to play he conducted himself in a manner expected of a thorough-going half.

JAMES B. EWART, Right Tackle. An All Southwestern tackle and probably the hardest working man on the team. "Jim" played in every game of the season and proved himself to be a valuable man. He is a true Razorback with the old time pep.

JIMMIE BAIN, Left Half. "And the smallest shall be the mightiest." When "Jimmie" got started for the line he was hard to catch. He made the only touchdown in the game against the Rice Owls.

L. P. SMITH, Left Tackle. "Some stars twinkle but others shine." Pardon the metaphor but we refer to "Bags" Smith. "Bags" works well with the rest of the line and his presence is essential.

ORAN C. YOES, Left Half. When the conversation concerns Yoes we think of him as a big football man of the future. Yoes so proved himself last season by his hard and persistent work. He is one of the most promising pieces of athletic timber in the conference.

JAMES PTAK, Left End. "Jimmie" had luck but it was bad luck. We are inclined to believe that he would have become one of the few stars had not fate turned against him. He is fast, a good tackler and possesses a good football head.

C. T. SMITH, Right Tackle. A good player and one that could be used without fear any time he was needed.

W. R. HARRISON, Fullback. "Let me have it!" "Dub" was a chap who always wanted to be in the midst of the fight, and if you noticed he was always there.

ROBERT ROBINSON, Left Guard. Robbie is built to make a good guard. He showed great development this year and next year he will make one of the best guards in the conference.

BEN WINKLEMAN, Right End. "Wink" is the "fightingest man ever." He's one of those fellows who says, "I dare you to come around my end." As a matter of history very few men did succeed in getting around "Wink's" end.

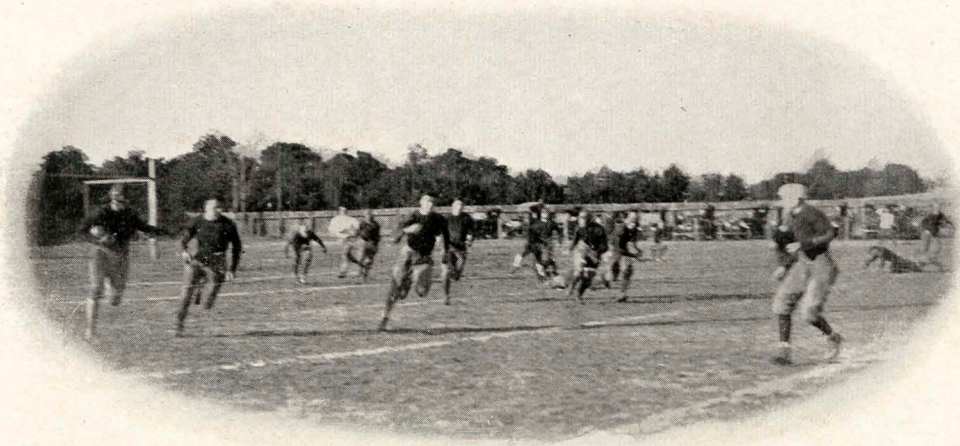

The 1919 Football Season

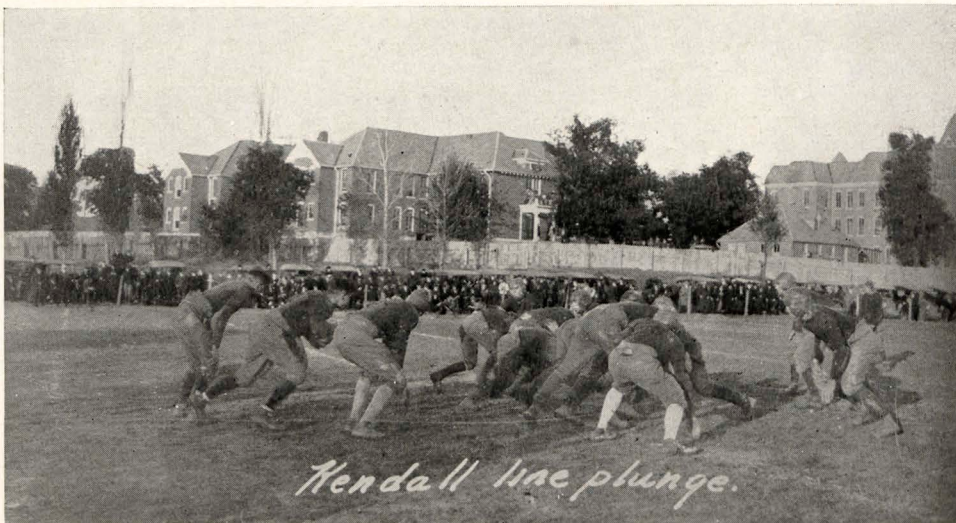

BEGINNING with the surprise from the Louisiana Tigers, Coach Craig had seen his small army of inexperienced football men, most of them making their first varsity effort, suffer one piece of hard luck after another.

No one blames the Coach or any member of the Razorback team which displayed the traditional Arkansas fighting spirit.

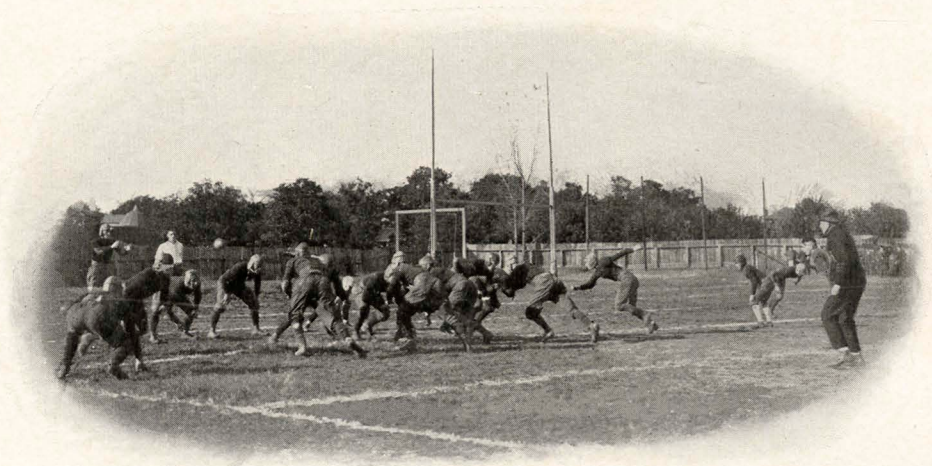

Hardly had the training season started than old man gloom began to camp on the trail of the Razorbacks. To begin with few "A" men returned. Most of the material for the squad was taken from the freshman class. The players were willing and game, but there was room for a little restriction on the why and wherefore of gridiron pastime.

Coach Craig worked all day and figured all night and when the whistle blew for the season's opener with Hendrix he had a team ready for the field. True it was that among those in the line-up were several who had yet to travel the road to fame. But nevertheless when the Hendrix game opened the students were on hand to see the fun and were satisfied when the visitors went home with the short end of a 7 to 0 score.

Hendall line plunge.

The next week, on October 19, the Razorbacks met the heavy team from the Rolla School of Mines. The Razorbacks were working better that time and we came out victors by a score of 20 to 0.

So far all games had been played at home. The next game was on foreign soil, and to those who made the trip it was a tropical soil, a tropical climate and a tropical region. The Razorbacks outplayed the Tigers the first half of the game but they came back strong the last half and won 20 to 0.

The Razorbacks not yet in their stride and without the "punch," discovered it was too early to mingle with the Kendall warriors, which meant more war and better war, and perhaps more than the Razorbacks were looking for.

Arkansas enthusiasts backed their team to the limit. The score? No matter about that. Back in the recess of our memory we recall that it was something like 63 to 7. Razorback "rooters" don't remember the score. They only remember that Arkansas was hopelessly outclassed in a game which spelled the most bitter defeat in years.

On November 8, the Razorbacks played their old enemy, the Longhorns of Texas University. The hoodoo could not be broken and we lost, 35 to 7.

The Razorbacks now had blood "in their eyes" and swore revenge. They got it in the next game. They met their old rival, Oklahoma, on the local gridiron. Oklahoma was over-confident of victory, having tied every game with Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, all members of the Western Conference, an association reputed to be stronger than the Southwest Conference.

The day of the Oklahoma game dawned bright and cheery. More people attended this game than attended all other games put together. The bleachers were filled to their capacity and hundreds crowded the side lines.

It was before such a crowd as this that twenty-two football warriors went springing at each other like human catapults.

The Sooners scored their first and only touchdown in less than five minutes after the opening of the game. Hill of the Sooners intercepted a forward pass and through a pretty display of broken-field running went over the goal line. Davis failed to kick goal. The Razorbacks fought hard, and won the game when Basore made a touchdown and "Sodie" kicked goal.

The Rice game, the last of the season, was a disappointment to Arkansans. The Owls were not underestimated, but it was the common belief that we would win. But fate would allow nothing but gloom to greet our ears. The Rice Owls won by the handy margin, 40 to 7.

Thus closed the 1919 football season!

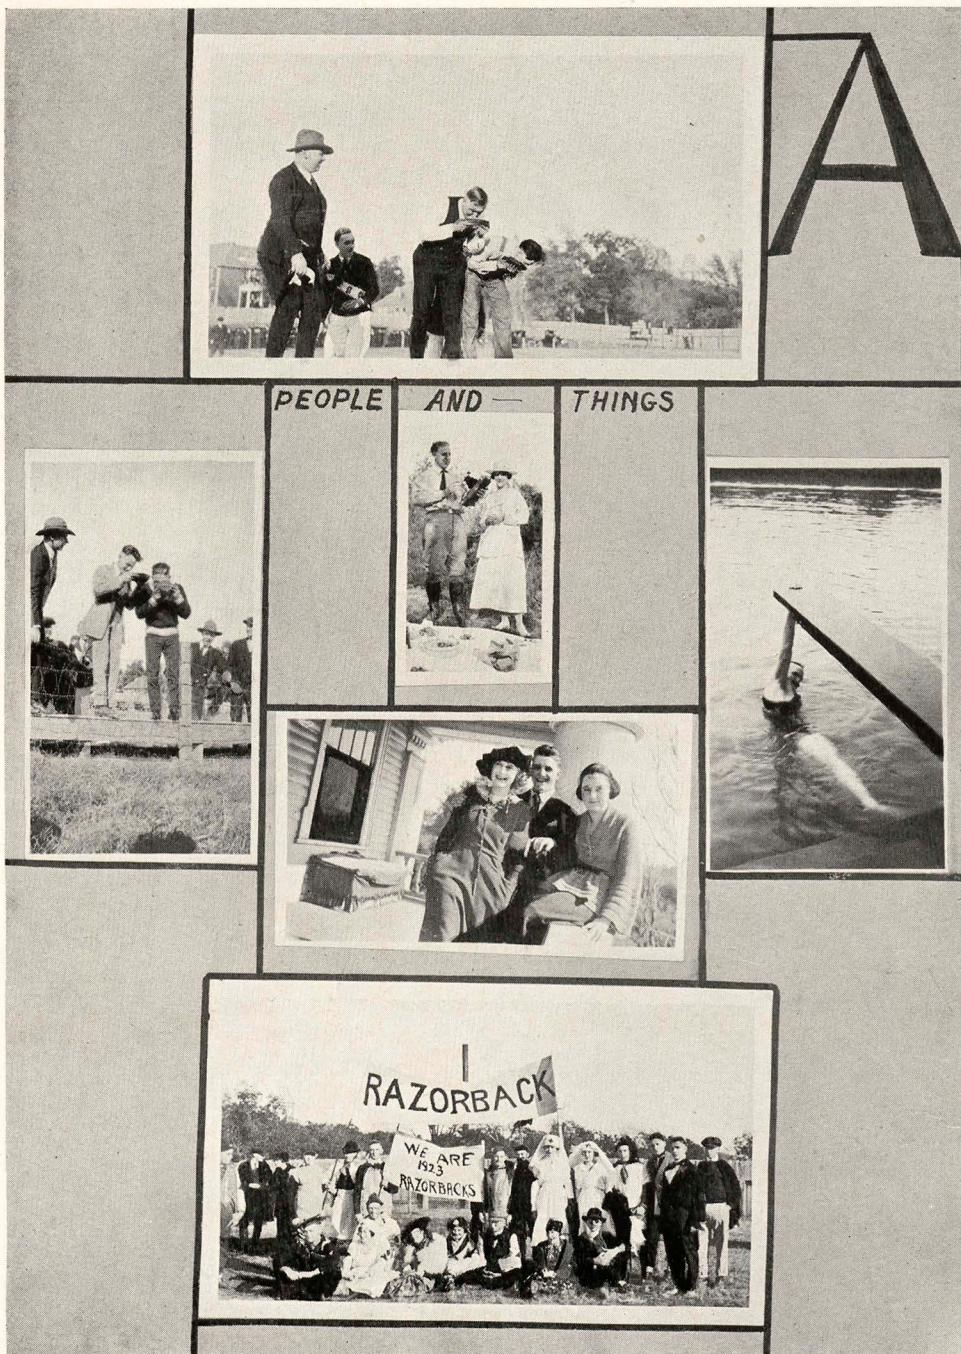

A RECOGNITION

The second squad, the "dumb bells" of the first squad, rarely ever get any recognition of the indispensable services which they render. People say they don't deserve it, and those people who make such statements know about as much about football as a goldfish knows about flat feet.

Now we admit that they do not play any games in the conference, but there is another side besides the right side. Ask yourself this question: What would the first squad practice on if it were not for the second squad? A fair question, and one which, we dare say, you never thought of before. It must be lots of fun to those fellows to have "Sodie" and "Money" and some of those other big "firsters" knocking them about from day to day just for the practice. Ask them.

A man on the second team has nothing to work for except that he may play on the first team next year. His work is necessary to the working out of a winning team. Give him his due credit. The men whose faces appear in the above picture did their share towards developing a winning team. Don't kick them, kick yourself, and ask yourself this question: Did I do my part?

THE TEAM

Gaffney. "Pinkey" is an all around baseball man and a catcher who puts pep into the playing.

Black. Clint pitches with his head as well as with his arm.

Jamerson. "Birdie" is our big portside hurler. He has contracted the habit of making opposing batters look sick.

Robertson. "Robbie" is the Razorbacks' star pitcher. He startled conference baseball circles with his sensational strike-out record.

THE SEASON

The 1920 season opened March 26, when the All Stars gathered on the University diamond, only to take away the bacon on both occasions. In the first game the Stars won 2 to 1. The second game went for eleven innings winding up with a score of 1 to 0. The Razorbacks showed good stuff and were not in the least discouraged.

April 2 and 3, the Razorbacks played the Hendrix Bulldogs at Conway a series of two games. The Razorbacks showed superior ability and won easily from the Bulldogs, 5 to 3 in the first game and 11 to 3 in the second game. The Razorbacks will repeat these victories when the Bulldogs play here April 21 and 22.

Then came the games with the Fort Smith Twins, the pride of the Western Association. The first game ran eleven innings and was called on account of darkness with neither team having crossed the home plate. In the second game the Twins won 5 to 4 and in the third game the Razorbacks won 1 to 0.

The team expects to play several more games before the season closes.

These men have helped form a solid baseball machine. The catching force, Gaffney and Kemp; the pitching force, Robertson, Black and Jamerson; and the fielders, Kizer, Spikes, Hinds, Williams, Rogerson, Ptak and Hendrey, form the nucleus of a team, that in strength and excellency has not been excelled at the University.

Kemp, C. The peppy first year receiver whose arm, head and clouting ability lent confidence to the entire squad.

Rogerson, L. F. Opposing fielders always moved back when "Briscoe" stepped up to the bat.

Ptak. "Jimmie" could hit, run and field. What more do you want?

Hendrey. Waldersee, at Conway, stepped into the shoes of our star infielders and upheld his record by obtaining four safeties in one game.

Kizer. Roland is a veteran of two years, and is just the man we need at the keystone.

Spikes. Always in the game from cap to spikes.

Hinds. Hub is our star first baseman. We have no worry as long as he is guarding the initial sack.

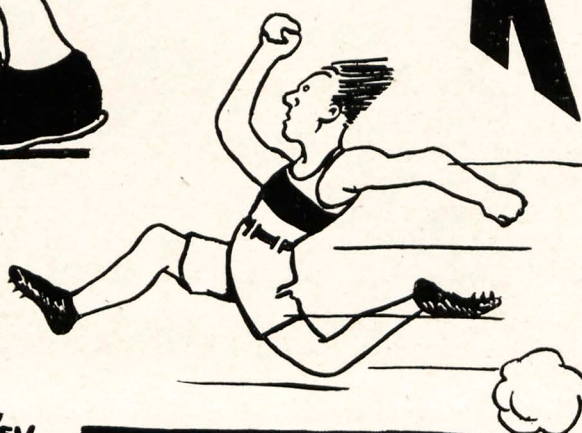

Williams. Every well balanced team has one man who can be depended upon to hit in the pinch. "Chubby" fills this place on the Razorback nine.

ON THE CINDER PATH

THE UNIVERSITY'S record in track work is yet to be made. Beginning last year with the adoption by the faculty of compulsory athletics for first and second year men, more men reported for track than for any other branch of general athletics, and it was soon discovered that we had some excellent material. Coach Mather worked hard to get his men in condition and when the inter-class meet came around it proved a big success. Some good records were made and this first meet gave evidence of the fact that there was a demand for this form of athletics, and that to make it a success a coach was needed.

This year these needs were satisfied when Coach J. B. Craig was retained by the University after the football season to take charge of track work. A meet with Drury College has been scheduled for the early part of May. Coach Craig is putting his men through some strenuous work.

This may be said to be the University's first year to participate in a track meet of importance. In the next year or so we expect to see Arkansas strong on the cinder path.

OWEN F. AGEE In the Fall of '18
There came
SPENCER ALBRIGHT To the U. of A.
A host of brilliant
LOUIS ALBRITTON Green, all fresh
Fair, not much.
WINIFRED ALLEN
CHARLOTTE ANDERSON
They were,
MARION ARGO As they all are,
Sophisticated.
WILLIAM J. BAYNE That bunch of Mottled green
LELA BARTON Thought much
And bragged much
GEORGE BASORE Of its worth
And all,
LUCY BASSETT But was meek
And all-ignorant
MARGARET BATES Of college life.
And those worthy
S. J. BEAUCHAMP And strong
Upperclassmen
ROBERT C. BETTS Took it upon Themselves
DOROTHY BLACK To teach the
New shipment of
MAE BLAKELY Creatures the Lesson of obedience.
R. BLAINE This was begun
Systematically,
GEORGE BLODGETT By leather and Sound wood.
HAZEL BORDEAUX Their obnoxious
Presence
LEE BOSSEMEYER Was barred from HOLY SCHULER
HELEN BOYCE Town.
Their pernicious
LILLIAN BREWSTER And scatterbrained and doleful and
JAMES BRITT Miserable
Presences were
LUCILLE BROOKSHER suppressed with Rigid severity,
VINVELA BUTT And they thought,
With almost
R. C. CALDWELL Inhumanity.

ERRINGTON CAMPBELL . . . The class of '22
Was obstinate,
EUGENE CANFIELD And staying out
And running
EDNA CARPENTER Loose,
They soon got
GERTRUDE CARTER Wild and Independent.
L. E. CHRISTIAN The hard-boiled
Upperclassmen
CHESTER CLARDY Were fighting
The freshies'
HOWARD CLARK Battle elsewhere.
When the war

Some of the ultimate aims of the work of the Agricultural Extension Division, College of Agriculture, are:

1. Beef herds like these found at the Gallaway and Gow stock farm, Little Rock, Arkansas.
2. Large cash crops. Arkansas now has over 800,000 such crops produced each year.
3. Corn crops that are paying the farmers. Earl Best has twice been State corn club champion in his prize area.
4. Farm homes like this beautiful home of E. C. Bellamy, Mammoth Springs.
5. Better sires like this one, Point Comfort XIV, grand champion 1913, bred in Arkansas by Col. Miles.

Top picture—A part of the Arkansas Agricultural Extension Force. Sixty-four of the seventy-five counties of Arkansas have seventy-two county agricultural agents. Fifty-five counties have sixty-three home demonstration agents. These workers are assisted by a corps of supervisors and specialists in the various branches of practical agriculture. This entire force is devoted to helping the farmers and their families do the things they want to do.

Bottom picture—A typical organization of boys and girls in agricultural and home economics clubs. Johnson county, in 1919, had 375 club members and twelve organized clubs.

Teaching farming and better home making through clubs and demonstration work is one of the most important functions of the Agricultural Extension Division.

1. Canning demonstrations in charge of the home agents are also enjoyable social events for the entire community.
2. County agent B. A. Spardlin, Newton county, talking it over with a club boy.
3. Exhibits of Monroe County Canning Club (girls) in home economics demonstration work.
4. Roy and Roland Roddle, twin club boys of Fort Smith, raised $87\frac{1}{2}$ bushels of corn on their twin acres in 1919.
5. Home-makers. Clubs organized by negro extension workers to create a more attractive home life and better homes.

THE ENGINEERS' QUEEN AND SAINT PATRICK

Engineers' day at the University has become an annual affair and one which is always looked forward to. The numerous Saint Pats always have something new and novel. The chemical engineers lament the passing of the still and weep profusely over the remains; the mechanical engineers display their various kinds of instruments and the electrical engineers stage illumination stunts.

Miss Melba Mickel was the Queen last Engineers' day. Del Cato Wilcox was St. Patrick. As a fitting climax to their day of celebration, the engineers wind up with a jazz ball in the University armory. The engineers' dance is usually enjoyed to its fullest extent, and after the grand march is over the pep breaks loose.

The College of Engineering

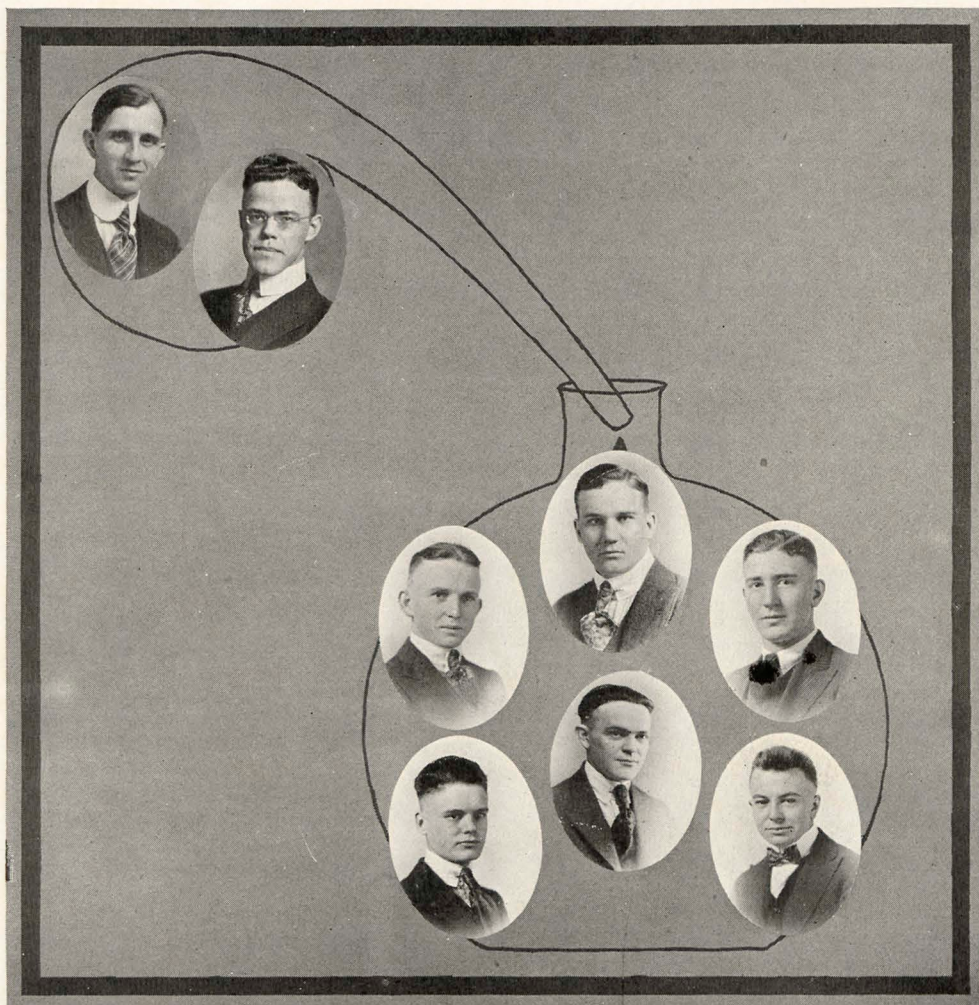

THE Engineering College of the University, of which W. N. Gladson is dean, is one of the best in the South. Theory and practice are taught side by side so that students may realize the most from their studies.

Graduate students in all lines of engineering are in great demand. Most students who desire to begin work at the end of their junior year are usually able to get good positions. Special or short courses are offered for the benefit of those who do not desire to spend four full years in college. These courses are arranged to be completed in two years and are necessarily more intensive than the full four-year course. Short courses may be had in any of the departments.

The College of Engineering is divided into four departments: the Department of Civil Engineering, the Department of Electrical Engineering, the Department of Mechanical Engineering, and the Department of Chemical Engineering. These departments are headed by efficient men whose purpose it is to turn out trained material.

The basic principles of all engineering is fundamentally the same, and for this reason students generally do not know exactly what line of work they want to follow until about their junior year. The first two years study in all branches of engineering, after 1919-20, will be the same. Students will have more time to decide what particular phase of engineering they will undertake.

The College of Engineering has developed rapidly in the past few years. Today it is the most important college in the University, does more practical work and accomplishes more. Engineers are always in demand, and the more training the higher the salary.

THE instruction and practice in this school are given under the following divisions: Steam, gas, heating and ventilating, heat, power and experimental engineering.

The aim of the instruction has from the first been to lay a broad and solid foundation in the fundamental subjects, so that with practice in the field, shop and laboratory and drawing room, its students are fitted for immediate usefulness upon graduation. The plan of study is designed to be especially strong in the various phases of mechanical engineering, and to develop in the student the power of thinking for himself and to cultivate in him the ability to apply to the solution of practical problems sound theoretical knowledge.

As members of an exacting profession, in which industry and character count for as much as technical training, its alumni have made an enviable record, a record of true and unselfish service to mankind.

American Institute of Electrical Engineers

University of Arkansas Branch

Progress in the electrical industry has quadrupled in a decade. Central station service, illumination, industrial power, transmission, electric railway, telephone, wireless—all these and more have on the average doubled in five-year periods.

Underlying this progress is the work of the electrical engineer. Great undertakings have been successful because many men of many minds have worked together and understood one another.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers is a national organization representing the electrical profession. It was founded in 1884. The objects of the Institute are the advancement of the theory and practice of electrical engineering and of the allied arts and sciences.

The Department of Civil Engineering

A FOUR-YEAR course in Civil Engineering is offered, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Civil Engineering. A course leading to a degree in highway construction is also offered. The graduate degree of Civil Engineering is granted to students who have completed one year of graduate work in residence. The professional degree of Civil Engineering is conferred upon graduates of the University who have been in successful practice of their profession for at least three years.

The courses in this department are planned to give the student a fundamental knowledge of theoretical principles with as much engineering as possible. The studies might be classified under the following heads: Surveying, Hydraulic Engineering, Applied Mechanics, and Bridge, Highway and Railroad Engineering.

Field work and drafting room work are carried on side by side with the classroom work. A party of juniors and seniors goes into camp each year for a few weeks' practical work in railroad surveying.

ARKANSAS vs. LOUISIANA

DEBATING in the University has reached a stage of marked success. The history of the debating teams for several years past has been most encouraging.

In the past five years we have suffered only one defeat. The victories last year were won by James Bradley and Gails Ragsdale over Mississippi, and by Harrod and McFarlane over Oklahoma A. & M. The decisions in both cases stood 2 to 1.

Arkansas meets Louisiana this year at L. S. U.'s own home town with everything set for the victory. Evans and Rutherford, representing Arkansas, are two of the best debating men that Arkansas has had for many years. Evans served as an alternate last year and his ability as a speaker is unquestionable. He has had several chances to show the students what he could do. Evans has a most pleasing personality, is able to think on his feet and has a delivery that is strong and convincing. Rutherford is serving his first year as an inter-collegiate debater, but already his exceptional abilities have attracted the attention of the debating coach. Rutherford is unusually strong in his rebuttals and in his ability to tear down the arguments of his opponents. A quick thinker and a sure hitter, Rutherford comes to the front as one of Arkansas' promising debaters. Evans and Rutherford are sure to bring home the victory on April 9 and leave Louisiana to bear the defeat.

FREEMAN

SMALLWOOD

ROBINSON

ARKANSAS VS. SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

Lovell and Roberts worked hard on the question, "Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Acquire and Operate the Coal Mines" and deserve credit for the splendid efforts. They promise to make the debating teams next season interesting.

The history of the Arkansas vs. S. M. U. debate has been quite different. The team began the preparation of a debate with Mississippi University. The subject was: "Resolved, That the Members of the Cabinet should have Seats in the U. S. Senate with the full Privileges and Powers now Attached to Membership in that Body, with the Single Proviso that they shall not be Eligible to service on Committees." After practically all the debate had been prepared by the Arkansas debaters Mississippi stated that it would be impossible for her to continue with the debate. Dr. Jordan made haste to find another school to take the place of Mississippi and after several weeks Southern Methodist University of Dallas replied that she would accept the challenge. The question submitted was "Compulsory Arbitration of all Organized Strikes." Arkansas took the negative side of the question and began making preparations.

The Arkansas vs. S. M. U. team promises to bring home another victory when she meets her opponents here some time in May.

Freeman dropped the work after Mississippi declared her intention of discontinuing the debate. This was made necessary on account of the amount of outside work being carried, especially that the Razorback must soon go to press. This is Freeman's first year on the debating team. He is a conscientious worker, a deep thinker and a good speaker and had he remained on the team there is no doubt that he would have had the opportunity of assisting in the trimming of S. M. U.

After Freeman dropped the work the other three men were left to fight it out without the assistance of a fourth party.

Smallwood is a clean-cut debater fresh from the high school teams. This is his second year at the University. Jack works hard and once he has begun a thing he is determined to see it through.

Robinson took part in the inter-society debate last year and this convinced him that he has inter-collegiate abilities. "Stubby" goes after a thing to win and he generally gets there.

Harrison has had experience in debating at Hendrix. His ability is generally recognized as about the best on the team. Harrison has a striking personality and a keen intellect. It is somewhat of a conjecture as to who will place on the S. M. U. team at the final tryout which will be had in the early part of May.

MAKE CHANGES IN E. E. LABORATORY

A chemical engineering laboratory of the University is being prepared, so that three thousand students may be accommodated in the Laboratory. The improvements being made under the direction of J. W. B. Ferguson, of the department of electrical engineering and under the building of a 45 kilowatt power station, which will also increase of power from the tap lines, the installing of two new steam generators and four electric motors including pumps.

A photo-sensitizing laboratory and a standardizing laboratory will also be built in time to be used next year.

From a three-chamber, all of the members in the Electrical Engineering Laboratory were placed permanently on reserve blocks which were scheduled in the master flow of the lab. Two personnel have been added to the reserve unit, impossible while their settings took up a large amount of necessary space.

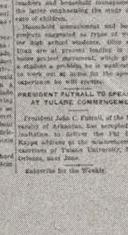

...napped calls for an increase in the amount of electricity taken from the city lines. Much of the criticism of the new curriculum is based on the fact that it is too theoretical and does not give enough emphasis to the practical aspects of the subject. It is also criticized for being too long and for not giving enough emphasis to the study of the life of the child.

THE "Y" HUT, DRAWN FROM A PHOTOGRAPH

WILLIAM S. GREGSON, General Secretary

Mr. Gregson, or more commonly "Greg," came to the University January, 1919. During the war he served as Educational Director of the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Pike. He was considered one of the best and one of the most efficient men on the force, and it was with difficulty that he secured a release from his duties there and came to the University.

However, it was a most fortunate event for the Young Men's Christian Association of the University. "Greg" is a friend to all the boys and to all the faculty members. Always ready to assist in any undertaking he usually is in demand. A good sign painter, and his work is seen almost any day advertising everything from mass meetings to candy pullings. Mr. Gregson has a vital interest in the school and in its progress and as long as we can keep him here the boys will always have a willing friend.

THE OATH OF HIPPOCRATES

I swear by Apollo, the physician, and by Aesculapius and Health and by all the gods and goddesses, that according to my ability and judgment, I will keep this oath and stipulation; to reckon him who taught me this art equally dear to me as my parents; to share my substance with him; to regard his offspring as on the same footing as my own brothers and teach them this art, if they should wish to learn it, without fee, and to impart, by precept, lecture or any other mode of instruction, a true knowledge of the art to my own sons and to those of my teachers and disciples. I will follow that method of treatment, which, according to my ability and judgment, I consider for the benefit of my patients and abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous. With purity and holiness I will pass my life and practice my art. Into whatever house I go, I will enter, if called there on account of sickness, for the benefit of the sick. While I continue to keep this oath inviolate, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and the practice of my art, respected by all men at all times; but should I trespass and violate this oath may the reverse be my lot.

Mathematics Club

The Mathematics Club was founded February 11, 1919, by a group of students under the direction of Dr. W. L. Miser. Its purpose is to study those phases of mathematics which are of general interest, and which cannot be studied in the classroom.

Anyone interested in the study of mathematics is eligible for membership.

The Calendar

1919-20

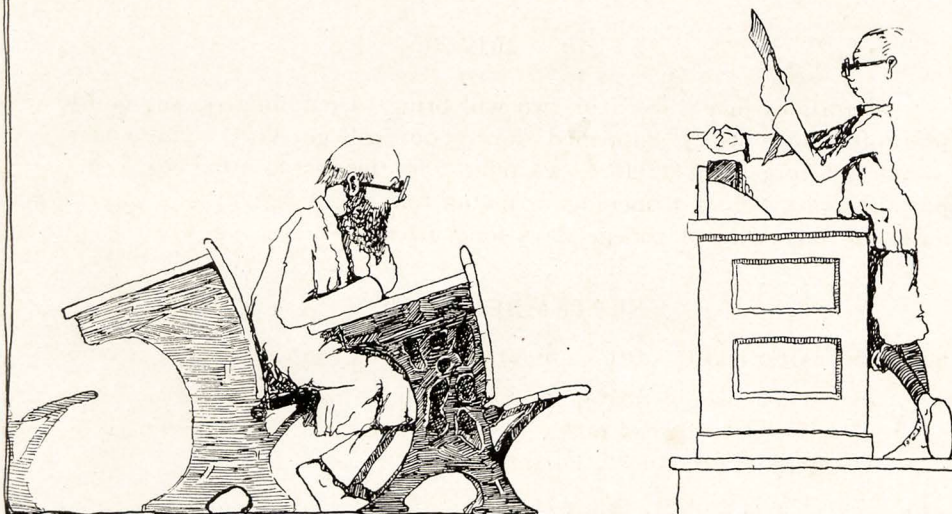

Oftentimes just a word or two will bring to our minds some of the very pleasant things which happened during our college days. These things we would not forget. Therefore, we offer you this list of the year's most important and weighty happenings, trusting that it will assist, in a way, to keep alive the memories of college days long after they are over.

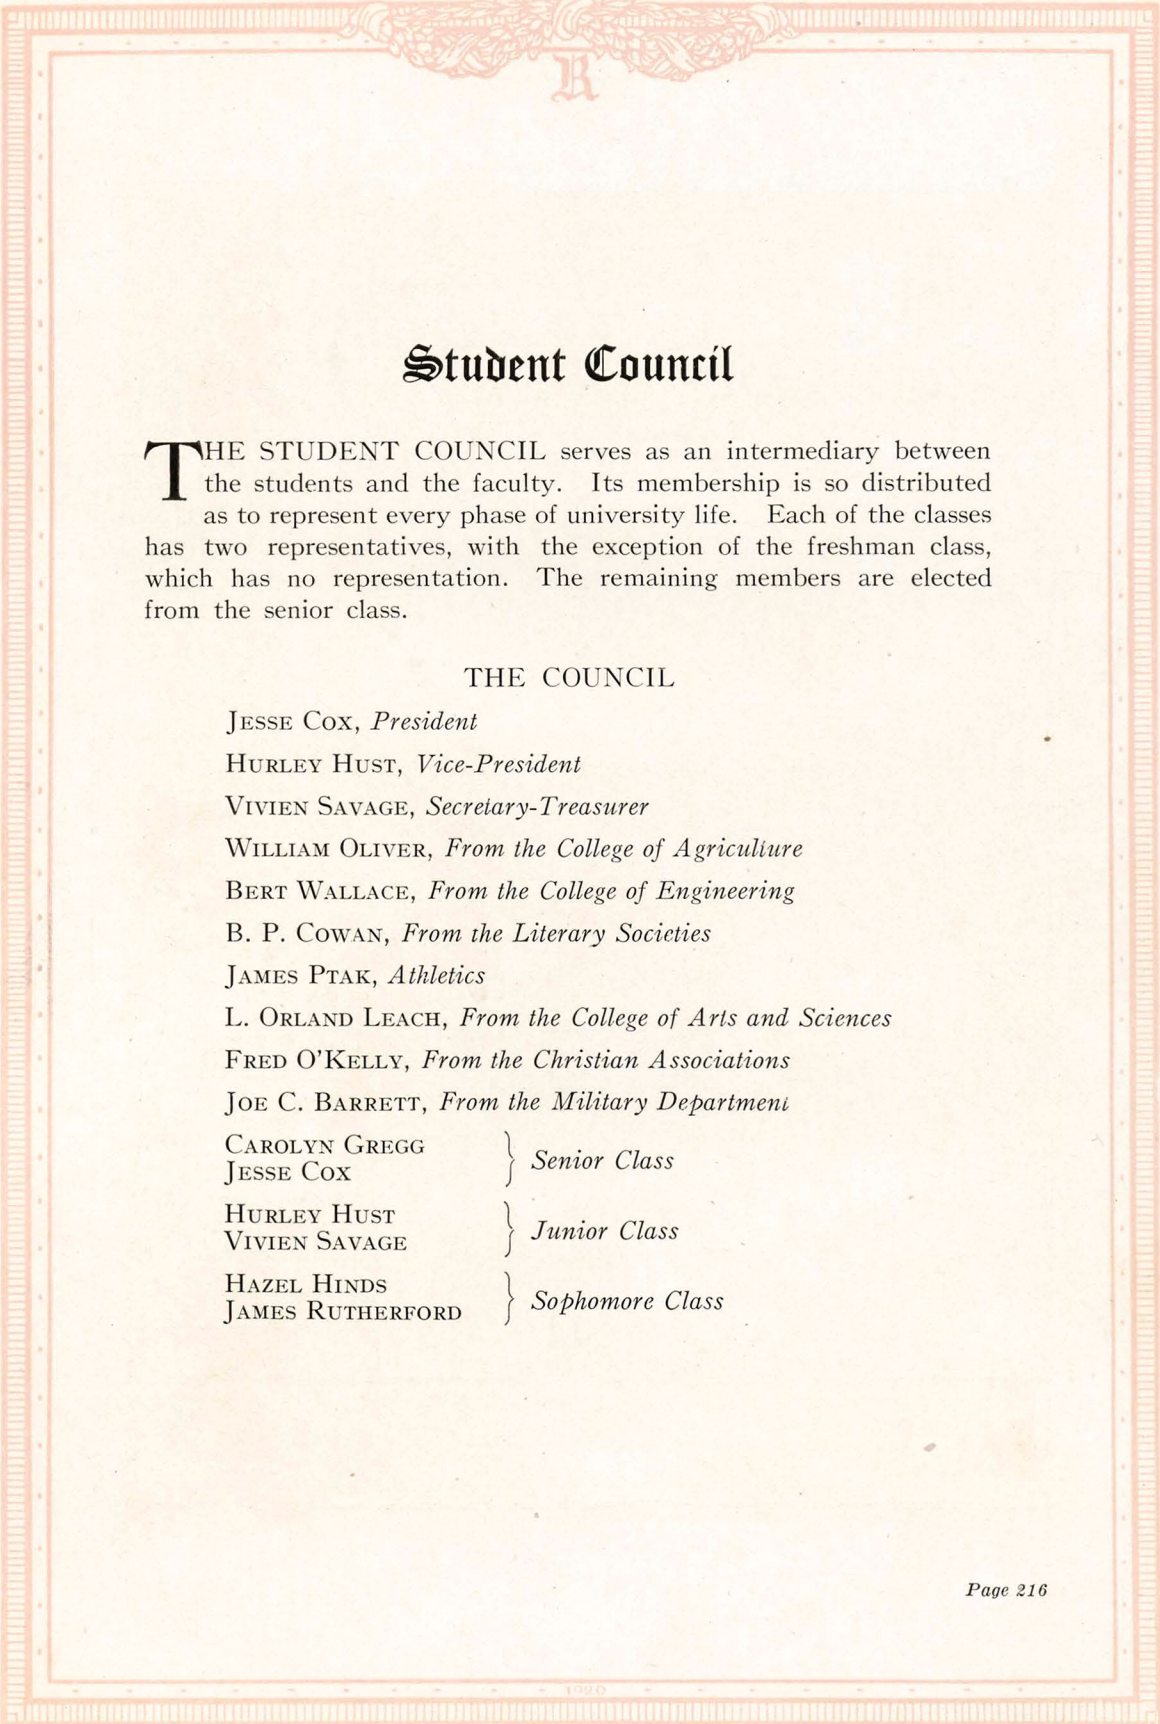

SEPTEMBER—OCTOBER

- Sept. 25. After a sleep of three months our Alma Mater takes on new life.
- Sept. 26. The unsophisticated freshmen see Carnall Hall for their first time. Freshman Faisst makes soap-box speech. All freshmen enjoy night inspection of East mountain.

- Sept. 29. The winter term opens.
- Sept. 30. Formal opening of the Squibb Shooters Union with "Shorty" Christian as President and "Tanlac" Joerden as Grand Councilor. The President authorized the buying up of all powder and soda straws.

RAZORBACK QUEENS

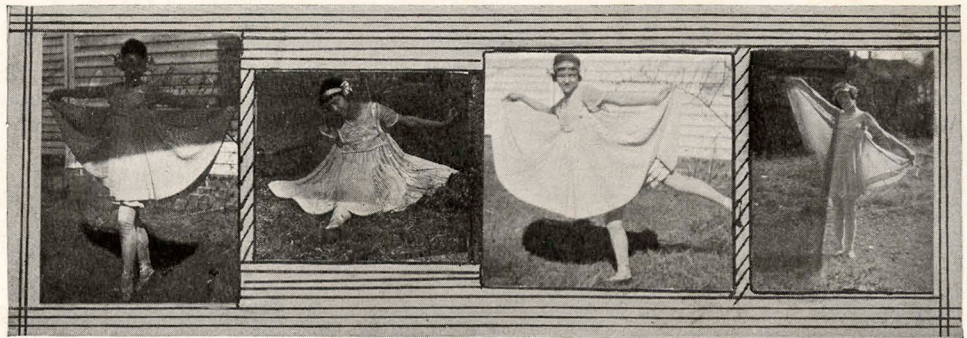

The Razorback Queens

Miss Cora Lee Reed, Little Rock, a member of the sophomore class and the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity.

Miss Vivian Clark, Ozark, a member of the freshman class and of the Tri Kappa Club.

Miss Carolyn Gregg, Fayetteville, a member of the senior class and of the Chi Omega Fraternity.

Miss Evelyn McNairy, Pocahontas, a member of the freshman class and of the Delta Delta Delta Fraternity.

Miss Estelle Buckingham, Van Buren, the dainty little toe dancer who visited the University last February.

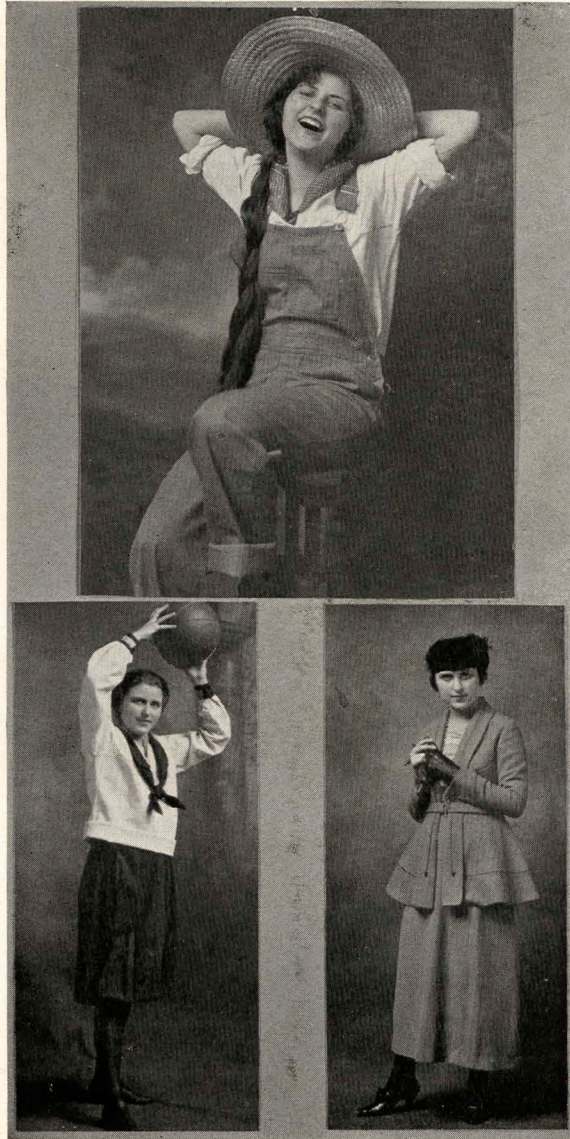

Evesyn McNairy

Vinbela Butt

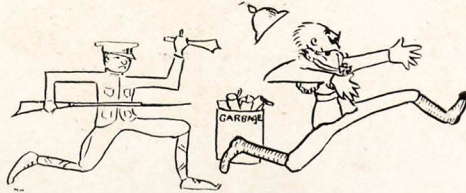

Miss Butt is the University's most perfect girl, having been accorded that honor in a physical examination conducted by Miss Williams, head of the department of Physical Education for Women, during the earlier part of the year.

Miss Butt has the same measurements as Annette Kellerman. She is a member of the sophomore class and of the Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Warning

You have now reached the no-liability section.

You have passed the stage of inflated prices and painted personalities where we attempted to make everybody satisfied and to blow them up as much as possible.

You have now reached that section of the book where it might be advisable for you to consider very seriously turning another page, for to do so might expose you to the most brutal and unfounded attacks. In this section King Price is hurled like a thunderbolt from his majestic throne. The whole blooming campus is punctured and laid bare at your feet.

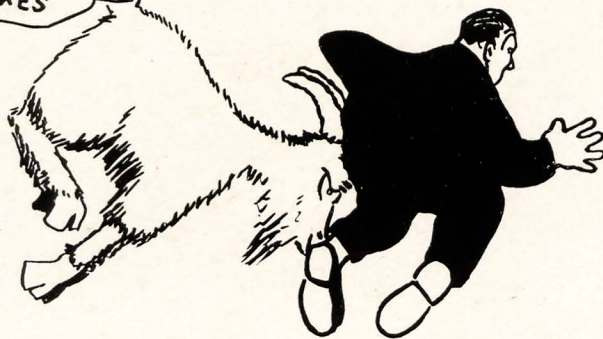

And this much—

Now throw open the furnace doors and prepare for the distillation. It takes heat, not hot air, to stifle the Incubus of Ego. It takes heat, heat and more of it, to eliminate the useless vapor. You may need heating and you may not get it. But remember that if you are among the egos you deserve the place and the high honor. And also if you do not find yourself among the egos, remember that you do not deserve the recognition. Only the biggest and best and most acceptable cuts are used in this beefing. WE DON'T SERVE HASH! This barbecue is limited in the extent and quality of membership. You need not search for the editor when the Razorback comes out, for he won't be at home. You might as well bear your punishment along with the rest of the readers.

Prepare the victims for the grill! Let the caldron sing a dirge!

Kappa Alpha

Kan't Appear

Founded by order of the Eastern Star.

Secret Motto—"God and the Ladies," with special attention to the latter.

Number of Chapters—Only a few since the U. S. went dry.

Password—Ladies.

"Knights of Alcohol," a term which readily implies that they are worried. They inhabit the various sorority houses from a force of habit, are well polished and very refined. "Oh! Remove the dirt from the table." They employ their own private orchestra. "Toby" is the director and general thumper.

Kappa Sigma

"Kome Seven"

Founded as an experiment.

Secret Motto—Stimulant.

Number of Chapters—Too numerous to mention and Charlie's Cole 8.

Password—Hell.

They engage frequently in the universal pastime, Gallopin Dominoes, and usually emerge from the game looking forlorn and down-hearted. Wonder why? Never have dates unless the unwritten ordeal is forced upon them?

Pi Kappa Alpha

"Pretty Capable Applicants"

Founded somewhere above H²O.

Secret Motto—"Where am I?"

Number of Chapters—Count them for yourself.

Password—One more swallow.

This bunch of varied types is very consistent in its refusal to use H²O for drinking purposes. Where the "mule" flows this "gang" flows also. No tales out of school. "Cut down the spread and come along, fellows! The U. S. is bone dry."

Sigma Chi

"Siam's Children"

Founded in Bill's sand pile.

Secret Motto—Never been touched.

Number of Chapters—In every public school and kindergarten.

Password—"Dub."

In order to move from the sand pile, these woe-begotten infants had to use Bill's shovel. First they moved into the sand pile, then into a wagon, and then into the gutter only to have the irresistible little fellows come out and establish themselves in a canning factory.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

"Sacred Parasitical Entertainers"

Founded by chance.

Secret Motto—Just Anything.

Number of Chapters—Out of the question.

Password—One o'clock.

These seemingly independent fellows, coming from all parts of the state, are truly of a very different nature. As a matter of fact they cannot sleep at night. They study very little and as a result they are granted the privilege of sleeping in class, much to the satisfaction of the Profs. They represent the "Wear-Ever Company" in Arkansas.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

"Smuch Against Education"

Founded in the days of long ago.

Secret Motto—Out-o-Luck.

Number of Chapters—27½ (the ½ elsewhere).

Number of Active Members—Tubby Mullins and Jack East.

Number of Dead Members—The remainder.

Password—On to victory.

Organized and carried on under the auspices of the American Federation of Lady Fussers. Jack East, Chief Fusser; Hugh Lawson, Assistant. They are regular attendants at S. S. and Church. They are interested in the Price Clothing Store.

Sigma Nu

"Some Nuisance"

Founded at Sing Sing, 200 B. C.

Number of Chapters—Appalling.

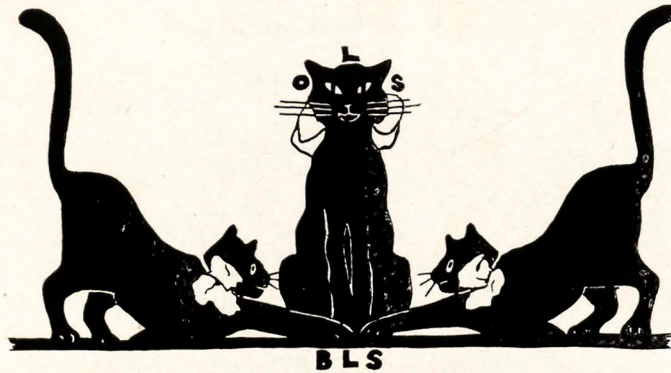

Number of Members—Who cares?

Password—Shoot-a-Nickel.

Secret Motto—Oh, let me shoot.

National Emblem—Three black cats.

This body of valiant knights frequently "read 'em and weep." The chapter house is open at all hours to any sucker, but closed to all slickers and sharks. BLS is the secret sign of their innermost mysteries. Mullins McRaven talks to the spirits, using these cats as his medium. Mullins keeps three black cats in the house nine months out of each year. The cats sleep with him. Joe Pugh is the Chapter's mascot and Fletcher Minnis the Chapter's boy!

"Careless Oncomers"

Founded by the Witch of the Temple.

Secret Motto—Some Refrigerator.

Password—Wait.

Number of Chapters—Astounding.

Number of Members—13. Living, Henrietta, Pete and Lois; dead, the remainder.

Noted for their slowness. Always one hour late. They are composed of various types—big, little; fat, lean; rich, poor. The "Ki-yotes" make use of summer in winter and winter in summer. Is it cold? They are frequent movers. They expect to secure the Oriental Hotel for next year's Chapter house.

Pi Beta Phi

"Pretty Bashful Persons"

Founded —————.

Number of Chapters—Many.

Number of Members—Very many.

Charter Members—Theda Bara and Annette Kellerman.

Secret Motto—In for everything.

Password—"Joe-Buck."

Probably the secret of this "bunch" is kept well hidden, but in our minds they will give any man a merry chance. "Where they dance, where they twist, and where they do a lot of things you can't resist." Look around!

Zeta Tau Alpha

"Zam! Topped Again."

Founded in case of necessity.

Number of Chapters—Numerous.

Number of Members—Supernumerous.

Charter Members—May Allison and Pearl White.

Secret Motto—Where is the dance tonight?

Password—"Minnie, shimmie for me."

The chorus of the Ziegfield Follies has nothing on this bunch of dames. We are forced to use a telescope to see them. Why don't they come down off that hill? Because the cost of living is lower higher up. This however is a dead secret and is not to be told outside the lids of this book.

Delta Delta Delta

"Deucedly Doubtful Damsels"

Founded years ago by Cleopatra.

Number of Active Members—Gussie Simpson, Charlie Forrester, Mary Davidson, Pauline Cravens. Inactive—Elizabeth Aubrey.

Secret Motio—Tri anything once.

Motto—If the Chi Omegas can't go, call on the Deltas.

Password—"Sodie." (Not Arm and Hammer's).

National Emblem—Hair Pin.

Number of Chapters—Burdensome.

A mix-up affair—vamps, saints and an awful assortment. They give Mr. Cole a trip most every day. They make most folks believe in them. Can you guess why? They like to be moving, and the farther away from the main building the better. Next year they will be located one mile north of the City Park. They will still have a chaperon.

Entering the World Electrical

THE graduate of today enters a world electrical.

Gathered from the distant waterfalls or generated by the steam turbine, electric power is transmitted to the busiest city or the smallest country place.

Through the co-ordination of inventive genius with engineering and manufacturing resources, the General Electric Company has fostered and developed to a high state of perfection these and numerous other applications.

And so electricity, scarcely older than the graduate of today, appears in a practical, well developed service on every hand.

Recognize its power, study its applications to your life's work, and utilize it to the utmost for the benefit of all mankind.

STUDENTS.

Makes Fine Address.

By P. Ray Cox

In the present crisis of the world's history we are beginning to make an advance in newspaper writing.

We feel that the ordinary student is quite unable to edit the Weekly. We of the journalism department are attempting something big and we expect everyone to stand aside. Our paper will contain articles on dancing, no jokes, all about the war, "flu" preventives and other interesting subjects. The rest of the paper to be devoted to advertising.

I would be elected unanimously editor-in-chief to succeed Joe Barrett. Also I'm convinced that I am more competent.

We will have long write-ups of ball games and short stories on dancing, which will be very beneficial. Mr. Votaw will assist us.

FUNDAMENTALS OF A KISS

By

Ichthyioviski Rip Van Winkless

Remove all cigars and pins from the front. This is called "getting ready for the press." Then throw the lips into lateral occlusions and press together, firmly and gently. Excess pressure is gradually released and instantly thrown on again.

No sliding movements should be made during this operation. The teeth should be rotated on their vertical axes so as to afford the most satisfactory relation with the opposing mandibles. The success of your kissing depends upon your diplomatic ability. The commonest kiss is the campus kiss and it is best expressed in the absence of discord.

"A kiss is an idealized bite." They are a mere matter of taste. A kiss converts all states of mind. The proper environments for a kiss are beautiful shimmering eyes, golden moonlight and rose-blushed cheeks, and later perhaps a marriage or an alimony.

What to do With the Boarding Houses

(An Essay by Crazy Jim)

The rooming houses at the University, including the Rex, the Carnall and Zeta Lodges, the Pi Phi, Gilbert and O. K. rooming plants, the Iowa, the Delta, the Ki-Yote Sweeteries, need stricter supervision.

The doors of these houses should be closed by eight o'clock and any locked out may enter a la Douglas Fairbanks' style without disturbing the family cat. Mother Davis suggests that members of the Carnall Lodge be forbidden to entertain their guests on the back porch at night. The writer protects the boarders at Buck and Gray and Hill rooming houses as they are at Nicken's most of their time.

The women should organize a Woman's Guarantee Association to endorse the following rules: Landlady agrees:

1. To furnish bed and mirror.
2. To supply one bath a week.
3. To furnish parlor one nite a week bare of her presence.
4. To sweep room okasionally.
5. To lisen to tenant talk over telephone.

Boarder agrees:

1. To pay board bill five months after doo.
2. To sleep not more than five in one bed.
3. Not to turn off lights in parlor when occupied.
4. To stay as long as wanted.

Whos Nobody and Why

U. A. LOVELL

(By Himself)

I am a conceited jackass. Oh I know it and I am glad of it. Consider my personal appearance and my divine walk. Again, consider my way with the ladies. I go with whom I please. And again, consider my standing. I am overwhelmed with grief whenever I make a grade less than B. In fact I am a model young man, accomplished, well bred. For references see James Colbert.

GRACE NEWMAN

(By Herself)

Yes, this is me. Grace Newman is my name. I run Carnall Hall and the Y. W. C. A. I am proud of the organization. I made it. I am about the brightest girl on the campus, and when I fail to put a thing over somebody has to pay. My superior intellectual mind makes me fit to run things.

PEARL COX

(By her Stenographer)

The subject of this has stated her aim as one which will re-create the University and rebuild it, walls and all. Miss Cox intends to take over all student publications and journalize them, Mr. Votaw assisting. She declares that if she stays here another year she will have the whole school recognizing her superb ability. I thoroughly believe in my employer. She has never paid me a penny.

EFFIE ALLEY

(By her Bosom Friend)

My friend Effie is all that her friends believe her to be. A most favorable recommendation may be had from Grace Newman. Effie believes that she is called to rule the world. The majestic beauty and power of her personality is the only scepter that she demands. I know Effie from A to Z, and know that she stands well with her family.

Mullins McRaven, when he ceases to be a boy, is going to write first class stories.

Prof. Steel: "How long have they been making Navajo blankets?"

Hazel Bordeaux: "Six feet."

Loftus Collomore in Geology Class: "Prof. Steel, can a camel with two humps drink more water than a camel with only one hump?"

Dr. Stewart: "I am going to write a paper and foist it upon the unsuspecting public. One time I bought some stock. I have a wife and some children over at my house," etc., etc.

A Leap Dear Proposal

"Dear, dear Heart:"

"While the frogs croak," "Ja-da," and "The sun shines bright in Dixie"
"I hear you calling me" and "My heart answers you."

"Last night in my dreams" "My thoughts wandered homeward." "Tell me" "How's everything in the old home town?" "I've got the homesickness blues." "Laddie" "I'm lonesome for you" "N'everthing." "I love you truly" for "A good man is hard to find." "I like a little lovin' now and then" and you understand.

"Somewhere a voice is calling," "Come back to me" "To our little grey home in the west." "Can you imagine" that "Somebody misses somebody's kisses?" "While you are away."

I hope "We'll meet again."

"Goodbye" "Dear old pal o' mine."

The activities of this club are confined to the fall term, when the leaves are still on the trees and when the freshmen are growing, but still ignorant. General Tanlac is making extensive preparations to entertain the new men next year. The club hopes to take over the sale of bath-house tickets to meet its financial needs.

"Where good fellows get together"

How IT — STARTED —

The Get — AWAY —

THE  END

In Retrospect

FOR fourteen months the work of building the "Razorback Distinctive" has gone on with increasing vigor and determination. Almost frantic cries have gone out for copy, and repeated again and again until the editor seemed to despair of all hope.

But despite all the difficulties and hardships that come with the editing of an Annual, the Razorback will soon be a reality. To the staff and to the junior class the editor would say this: Let your judgment of the success of the Razorback be measured by the amount of your encouragement and assistance.

To those members of the staff who responded willingly when called upon and to those students who were not members of the staff, but who helped materially in the building of the Annual, special mention is due. Quincy Adams, the Assistant Editor, and Tate McGill, the Agri Editor, deserve credit for their ceaseless efforts throughout the period of compilation and production. Edna Hood, Stanley Newman, Leo Hardin, Oren Hays, W. L. Oliver, Eloise Blevins, Minnie McGary and Gussie Simpson, although not staff members, aided cheerfully the editor in all the studio work. To these students the editor wishes to express his very grateful thanks.

In this connection the editor would not forget the invaluable assistance rendered by Mr. J. J. Sher of the Bureau of Engraving, in submitting various art sketches for opening pages, border and titles, and the timely assistance and advice of Mr. Ben F. Seward of the Hugh Stephens Printing Company, which saved the management much time.

In spite of all the worries and disagreeable thoughts, editing the Razorback has been a very profitable and interesting bit of work. The "Razorback Distinctive" will long be remembered. The editor will never forget the class of '21 who made it possible for him to profit in this school of experience and hard knocks.

—The Editor
